

GRAVEL CURED

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)
A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2437 North 8th St., Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends, who began to suffer incalculable miseries from stones in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Although disheartened, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.
Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N.Y., and for dis-corders of the bladder and urinary organs. He says: "It will cure any ailment possible."
Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unfailing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, and nerve troubles in which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

The Great Fryeburg Fire.

The fire levelled every building on the northern side of Main street, from the North Conway road, beyond the Oxford Hotel, to Miss Page's home. The great elms on that side of the street, a pride
of the village, were also destroyed.
Many dwellings and stores across the street were threatened, but except for the loss of a few shingles and the blistering
of much white paint escaped.

Several times the postoffice block roof
was a flame in spots. The Congregational church spire caught fire once and the roof twice, but sturdy watchers directed dippers of water that quenched
the firebrands. The roof of Henry Tarbox's residence caught fire ten or twelve times. The residences of John Hutchins, William Killy, Charles Ladd and Albert Fifield also caught fire from flying embers but were saved.

On Portland street, which extends from Main street at right angles, the temple, the fire did queer stunts. It skipped A. F. Lewis' store, J. C. Hartman's grocery store and dwelling, Charles C.
Warren's law office and E. E. Hastings' law office, on the easterly side the next street, and destroyed the next three buildings beyond—the unoccupied old Fryeburg tavern, Minnie Bradley's summer and a house owned by William Durgin and occupied by the family of Woodman Gray.

On the westerly side of Portland street
the ten buildings nearest Main street
were saved, but Andrew Evans' boarding house and Nathaniel Walker's dwelling were burned.

The fire started in the Oxford hotel,
a handsome, four-story wooden structure with a five-story circular tower facing the village square. It had accommodations for 150 guests. It has been crowded-most of the summer but the home-

OXFORD HOUSE.

ward rush had begun and only about 75 remained. Nearly all of them lost wearing apparel and some jewelry. The hotel employes, 25 in number, also lost about everything they had in the clothing line, and many of them unable to get to their rooms lost their summer's earnings.

The Oxford cost about $40,000 to build and furnish four years ago. It was run by its owner, Frank S. Plummer of Fryeburg. Its clerk was Monroe S. Clough of Boston. Both the clerk and the proprie-tor's family lost most of their personal effects.

The fire was discovered about 10:30 in the forenoon when most of the boarders were away from the hotel. Most of the servants were attending to their tasks incidental to clearing away after the morning meal. The smoke was first seen issuing from the roof, near the chimney of the L. The discovery was reported at the office and Frank Holbrook of Portland, one of the bell boys,
ran to the top floor, seized a line of hose
in the corridor and turned on the water at the standpipe which extended to the roof. There was too little pressure to render the hose of any great service.

A stiff breeze was blowing from the west, showering the heart of the village with burning embers.

Burning embers were wafted a mile to the Walker mills district, and set fire in the plains. A big crew of men from the mills turned out, fought the flames and got them under control, but not until an abandoned farmhouse owned by the Misses Walker was burned and other property endangered. The fire in the woods was under control at 10 o'clock in the evening. Alonzo F. Lewis, an insurance agent, while spreading wet blankets on the roof of his residence, fell to the ground. One hip was fractured.
He was taken to a Portland hospital on an evening train. The fire in the village was not under control till 4 in the afternoon. Loss $93,000.

Although the Portland firemen rendered valuable assistance, the engine was powerless because it could not be coupled on to the Fryeburg hydrants.

The Oxford House, a four story wooden structure containing 70 rooms, the Fryeburg House which was unoccupied, two millinery and dry goods stores, and twelve residences were totally destroyed.

An unsuccessful attempt to stay the progress of the fire with dynamite was made by men from a quarry the houses of Mrs. Susan Abbott and Horatio C.
Freeman being blown up, but the fire jumped over the debris to the buildings beneath.

The residences destroyed were those of Mrs. M. B. Barker, Mrs. Susan Abbott
Mrs. Eben Weeks, Tobias L. Eastman, Horatio G. Freeman, Seth W. Rife, Edward P. Weston, all on the northerly side of Main street; Minnie A. Bradley, William Durgin, Woodman Gray, A. H.
Evans and Nathaniel Walker on both sides of Portland street.

The stores burned were those of Mrs.
Mary B. Barker and Mrs. E. C. Rife who kept millinery, dry and fancy goods on Main street. The Fryeburg House, an unoccupied two story wood hotel of 20
rooms, was located on Portland street.
All buildings destroyed were of wooden construction. The roofs of many other places about town were ignited by flying brands and cinders, but were saved.

"The Oxford" was one of the finest summer houses in Maine. It was built only a few years ago by a stock company of Fryeburg people and others, after the destruction by fire of its predecessor,
the equally famous old Oxford House, at a cost of over $50,000 and for the last year or two has been kept running through the winter.

It is also said that the fine summer residence of Dr. Gordon of Portland, has also fallen a victim to the flames. This house is close by the hotel and would naturally be one of the first to go. It was an old historic mansion and full of treasures of art and antiquity.

But few villages in Maine are more venerable or beautiful than Fryeburg.
Here is the old academy where Daniel

Webster once taught and close by in a brick building where the county records are kept are many documents in his handwriting. The private home in this village are all of a high class. They are surrounded by ample lawns and well kept grounds and gardens which show the thrift and prosperity of the people.

It is largely as a historic center that Fryeburg is most famous. Here have occurred some of the most stirring scenes in the history of our State. It was here that the great battle of Love-wells Pond was fought in 1725, when the power of the Pequabuck Indians was broken. The battlefield is close by the village and the spot was marked by a memorial stone only about two years ago. The early settlers of Fryeburg were of a high character and quality.

Fryeburg is also noted as being the home of Molly Locket, the last of the Pequabucks. Here she lived in a cave long after the broken remnant of her tribe had gone to Canada. She was long known as the witch of Jocky Cap.

Fryeburg had its birth as an incorporated town during the darkest days of the Revolution.

The individual losses and amounts of insurance, as far as could be ascertained
are:

Electric Railroad Up Country to Naples.

From the Brighton News.
If any reliance is to be placed in published announcements, the towns in Northern Cumberland below us, up as far as Naples, and perhaps even further up, are likely to have in the near future
that great desideratum, railroad connection with the markets of the world.

The story goes that the project has attained such strength that the railroad commissioners have been asked to grant
a charter and hearings will at once be ordered to advise with that court as to public requirements, practicability, etc.
The road is for freight and passenger.
Starting at Cumberland Mills, near the Maine Central station, it runs up Meadow road to Casco village, thence to Naples
village, and Bridgton, the paper says That would be 30 miles to Naples, 38 if to Bridgton. It will be capitalized at $120,000, in $100 shares, and "the paper says" this has already been subscribed and the majority of it paid into the treasury. That is right queer, since there is no chartered company, and no
treasurer authorized to receive funds!

But the paper says so. The names mentioned as comprising the syndicate are Sumner O. Hancock and Richard Cook
of Casco, Edward M. Mason of Raymond, Ephraim B. Jilison of Otisfield, Henry
W. Evans of Denmark, Walter W.
Hamlin of Otisfield, John L. Meserve of Naples—the latter being secretary and treasurer. The heartiest subscriber to the stock is the Casco lumber king, Sumner O. Hancock. The petitioners ask for a "street railroad, to be run by electricity, compressed air, or animal power," but the talked, loan to electricity, a central station, located midway,
to develop electricity by water-power.
The gauge is to be 4 feet 8 1/2 inches in width; standard gauge cars, hauled with engines of 100 horse power motors will

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind,
discourages and lessens ambition; beauty,
vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear
when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent
that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with the weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds
the flesh, or if, when the child reaches arage when it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is in the kidneys, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble,
and both need the same great remedy.
The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold cent and one dollar

pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers
cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake,
but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

haul 12 to 16 cars three trips a day, all the year round, for freight, and for passengers a combination baggage car
with smoking room, as a regular diet,
but expanding as occasion demands.
The Maine Central, Boston & Maine,
Portland & Worcester, and the Portland
Railroad Co. are relied upon as feeders,
as it is proposed to ship freight from Portland to Cumberland Mills over the steam roads mentioned and at that point
take the cars onto the proposed Portland and Northern railroad.

It is also proposed to haul the freight from the towns through which the electric road is to pass to Cumberland Mills and there shift the cars onto the roads for which it is destined, thus enabling shippers in the towns to load cars
and ship them direct to their destination.

The plan further contemplates the construction of stations in the different towns through which the road is to pass
and make stops only at these stations
the same as a steam road would do.
It is thought by the people of Naples
that the home office of the proposed road will be in Naples owing to the fact that a large amount of the stock has been paid for by citizens of that town,
occupied with the fact that the company
was organized there.

The town of Naples has voted a loan of three per cent of its valuation as its share of the stock while the towns of Raymond and Casco have each subscribed liberally to the stock. The road is to be built largely of New York or New Jersey iron and steel. As soon as the railroad commissioners act on the petition for a charter it is understood that Percy H. Richardson will commence the work of making the survey and it is estimated that it will cost from $20,000 to $25,000 per mile to build and equip such a line but it is said that the money will be forthcoming as soon as the charter is granted, and that furthermore it is hoped to commence work on the construction of the road early in the fall so that it will be in readiness to commence business early next spring.

A great project surely, of vast possibilities to this region. If the half that is told be true Northern Cumberland towns are to be congratulated.
Thirty miles of a $25,000 per mile road—and the money in hand—is surely a bonanza for this people, and they are to be congratulated, if they only get it,
it can run it and make it pay expenses.
Ever figure annual interest account on that investment?

These statements are given in an unsigned article in the Portland Press of last week.
Surely there will be neither envy, opposition or criticism, from Northern Cumberland's biggest town, which has herself had a little experience in rail-road-
talk—and building and running!
Give them the charter and location,
commissioners, just as soon as they can show certified checks for the alleged subscriptions and reasonable prospect of success—with no interference with any rights already granted others.

But what as to that electric road from Waterford to Norway and Stoneham, whose money was so long in the treasury—but there was not a dollar for the Italians when they had begun work—
and the enterprise was abandoned?

The roofs of many other places about town were ignited by flying brands and cinders, but were saved.

"The Oxford" was one of the finest summer houses in Maine. It was built only a few years ago by a stock company of Fryeburg people and others, after the destruction by fire of its predecessor, the equally famous old Oxford House, at a cost of over $50,000 and for the last year or two has been kept running through the winter.

It is also said that the fine summer residence of Dr. Gordon of Portland, has also fallen a victim to the flames. This house is close by the hotel and would naturally be one of the first to go. It was an old historic mansion and full of treasures of art and antiquity.

But few villages in Maine are more venerable or beautiful than Fryeburg. Here is the old academy where Daniel

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing to Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every haul 12 to 16 cars three trips a day, all the year round, for freight, and for passengers a combination baggage car with smoking room, as a regular diet, but expanding as occasion demands. The Maine Central, Boston & Maine, Portland & Worcester, and the Portland Railroad Co. are relied upon as feeders, as it is proposed to ship freight from Portland to Cumberland Mills over the steam roads mentioned and at that point take the cars onto the proposed Portland and Northern railroad.

It is also proposed to haul the freight from the town through which the electric road is to pass to Cumberland Mills and there shift the cars onto the roads for which it is destined, thus enabling shippers in the towns to load cars and ship them direct to their destinations.

The plan further contemplates the construction of stations in the different towns through which the road is to pass and make stops only at these stations the same as a steam road would do. It is thought by the people of Naples that the home office of the proposed road will be in Naples owing to the fact that a large amount of the stock has been paid for by citizens of that town, coupled with the fact that the company was organized there.

The town of Naples has voted a loan of three per cent of its valuation as its share of the stock while the towns of Raymond and Casco have each subscribed liberally to the stock. The road is to be built largely on New York capital as there are parties standing ready to build and equip the road. As soon as the railroad commissioners act on the petition for a charter it is understood that Percy H. Richardson will commence the work of making the surveys. It is estimated that it will cost from $20,000 to $25,000 per mile to build and equip such a line but it is said that the money will be forthcoming as soon as the charter is granted, and that furthermore it is hoped to commence work on the construction of the road early in the fall so that it will be in readiness to commence business early next spring.

A great project surely, of vast possibilities to this region. If the half that is told be true Northern Cumberland towns are to be congratulated. Thirty miles of a $25,000 per mile road—and the money in hand—is surely a bonanza for this people, and they are to be congratulated, if they only get it, to run it at a make it pay expenses. Ever figure annual interest account on that investment?

These statements are given in an unsigned article in the Portland Press of last week.

Surely there will be neither envy, opposition or criticism, from Northern Cumberland's biggest town, which has herself had a little experience in railroad-building and running! Give them the charter and location, commissioners, just as soon as they can show certified checks for the alleged subscriptions and reasonable prospect of success—with no interference with any rights already granted others.

But what as to that electric road from Waterford to Norway and Stoughton, whose money was so long in the treasury—but there was not a dollar for the Italians when they had begun work—and the enterprise was abandoned?

EAST WOODSTOCK.
Eva Whitman Harlow.
Seldom has one been called from our midst to their silent rest who will be so greatly missed by everyone as the late Eva Whitman Harlow, wife of Chas. B. Harlow and daughter of Geo. L. and Mary Whitman of East Woodstock, being herself a person of sterling worth, pure in all that pertains to this life, her remembrance will be cherished as a priceless jewel.

In her home she was a loving companion to her husband, an affectionate daughter to her father and mother in their declining years. As a sister in a large family she was the idol of them all, so beautiful was her relationship with everyone. No one knew her but to love her; so good herself, she saw only good in others and thus her spiritual mantle fell on all around her.

As her teacher I see her in her school days, helping some unfortunate little feet along the pathway, and all along through life little troubles were always being brought to aunt Eva, for she, as no one else, could make them smooth, with a smile and a pleasant word for everyone.

Thus was her life. She was an active member of the Advent church of this place since childhood, organist and member of its church choir, and at all social and church gatherings nothing complete without her assistance. For years she had been a great sufferer from that terrible malady, Bright's disease, but had borne her sufferings without complaint and when on the Sabbath morning, following the birth of her darling child, she passed away, we know that from her pure life here she sleeps in Jesus, and on the resurrection morn, with outstretched hands, will await to meet her loved ones just on the other side.

PROOF OF TRUTH
Mr. B. P. Mullen well known Boston caterer, says, "I was born near St. Patrick's church in Lowell, Mass., and remember Fr. John O'Brien giving my mother a bottle of the Medicine which bears his name and which he procured at Carleton & Hovey's drug store. It has been used in my family for nearly 50 years. It has cured me of bronchitis and was used by my father as our family remedy." (Signed) B. P. Mullen, Caterer 19 Leroy Street, Boston, Mass.

Here again is more convincing evidence of the truth of "The Story of Father John's," and the merit of Father John's Medicine. For 50 years, it has been the family medicine in many Lowell families. More Father John's Medicine is sold in the city where Father John O'Brien lived and labored than in any other city of the same size. Lowell people know the value of this old medicine.

If you only knew what Father John's Medicine would do for you. If you could come to Lowell and talk with Lowell people, you would be convinced of its genuine worth.
If you are weak and run down, or if you have any throat or lung trouble, get a bottle of Father John's Medicine today. For Sale and Recommended by FRANK KIMBALL, NORWAY.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Do they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. A sluggish liver gives a coated tongue and breath, constipated bowels. Correct all these by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

PROOF OF TRUTH
Mr. B. P. Mullen well known Boston caterer, says, "I was born near St. Patrick's church in Lowell, Mass., and remember Fr. John O'Brien giving my mother a bottle of the Medicine which bears his name and which he procured at Carleton & Hovey's drug store. It has been used in my family for nearly 50 years. It has cured me of bronchitis and was used by my father as our family remedy." (Signed) B. P. Mullen, Caterer 19 Leroy Street, Boston, Mass.

Here again is more convincing evidence of the truth of "The Story of Father John's," and the merit of Father John's Medicine. For 50 years, it has been the family medicine in many Lowell families. More Father John's Medicine is sold in the city where Father John O'Brien lived and labored than in any other city of the same size. Lowell people know the value of this old medicine.

If you only knew what Father John's Medicine would do for you. If you could come to Lowell and talk with Lowell people, you would be convinced of its genuine worth.
If you are weak and run down, or if you have any throat or lung trouble, get a bottle of Father John's Medicine today. For Sale and Recommended by FRANK KIMBALL, NORWAY.

Prayer Meetings in M. E. Church. There are evening prayer meetings in the M. E. church, Friday and Sunday evenings of each week.

Mrs. Ruth Buck has returned from Raymond.

Geo. Adams of Poland was here last Monday.

Lima beans and sweet corn are now the order of the day.

Ruth Buck has gone to Otisfield to teach school where she taught last summer.

Carroll Strout and wife of Canton are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bela Strout.

School commenced in this district, Aug. 27th, with the same teacher, Ethel Thomas. She is liked by the scholars.

Mrs. Alvin Harmon and son of Cumberland Mills are visiting his sister, Mrs. Isa Kneeland, Winnie, daughter of Isa Kneeland, is sick.

A. C. Wentworth and wife of Boston recently visited his sister, Mrs. Daniel Thompson, also his brother, J. L. Wentworth at the village.

Mrs. Mary Libby a daughter, Abbie, of Gorham are visiting her brothers, Messrs. Daniel and Jimson Thompson, also Herman Thompson.

South Waterford.

The past week being near the end of the season has been a busy one. Many of the summer visitors are leaving early in September, so much in the way of entertainment is crowded into these last days.

On Friday evening, the 24th, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noble gave a most enjoyable picnic supper on the shore of Tom Pond in which about twenty-five participated, including Dr. and Mrs. Bristow of New York, who are spending the summer at North Bridgton.

Sunday evening was enlivened by a very delightful sacred concert at the home of Mrs. Stanwood, where some most charming music was rendered by Messrs. Stone, flute, Sattels, violin, Noble, cornet and Miss Hamlin, piano.

Mrs. W. W. Watson gave a whist party on Monday afternoon, twenty-eight ladies participating and Marion Monroe winning the highest score.

Tuesday night a party of young people camped on top of Bear mountain, roasting corn for their supper and "sleeping the sleep of the just" under the stars.

Wednesday afternoon, the Bolster's Mills and the Waterford base ball teams played their sixth game for the season on the Waterford field. Score 7 to 3 in favor of Waterford.

On Thursday evening a concert of unusual excellence was given in Grange Hall for the benefit of the South Waterford Church Repair Fund. The entertainment was arranged and carried out by a ladies' committee composed of Mrs. Sattels of Plainfield, N. J., Mrs. Wood of Hyde Park, Mass., and Mrs. Plummer of Colorado, who were seconded and assisted by the ladies and young people of the village and by the performers, all of whom gladly tendered their services, rejoicing in the opportunity to work in such a worthy cause.

The readings by Mrs. Wood, Alice Hamlin and Valma Young were new and interesting selections splendidly done and followed by rounds of applause. Ethel Monroe was in fine voice and rendered several solos most beautifully but especially a waltz song, "When Those Rosy Lips," with flute obligato by Mr. Stone, which fairly took the people off their feet and resulted in a well deserved encore.

Of the orchestra, which comprised Messrs. Stone, flute, Sattels, violin, Noble, cornet, Miss Young, mandolin, Miss Hamlin and Emma Young, piano, it is difficult to speak in true praise without using seemingly extravagant language. Many numbers were exquisitely rendered and if it were possible to select one and praise it above the rest it might be said the quintette intermezzo "Cherries" struck home directly to the largest number of hearts and called forth a few additional rounds of applause.

The attendance was large and refreshments were on sale after the concert. The whole affair was voted a grand success and the ladies had the pleasure of turning over to the Rev. Mr. Rumball the sum of $45.00 as the net proceeds of their labors.

On Friday a Stanwood family picnic and corn roast was held on the shore of Bear Pond and attended by about thirty of the family and friends. It was a genial, jovial and at times even uproariously jolly time, with so many good things to eat that well, it was fortunate there were some soda mints in the party!

In the evening was celebrated a unique entertainment very euphoniously styled a "Ball-Ball." Recognizing and appreciating the very great pleasure and enjoyment derived both by residents and visitors from the many hard fought and splendidly played ball games of the season and especially from the six sportsmanlike games between the Bolster's Mills and Waterford teams, a committee of gentlemen made up of Edgar Stone of Washington, J. S. Sattels of Plainfield, J. Monroe of Philadelphia, and W. W. Watson and F. A. Noble of Waterford, tendered to these two base ball clubs and their guests a complimentary dance in Grange Hall. Packard's Orchestra augmented by Messrs. Stone, Sattels and Jennie Hamlin willingly and freely tendered their services, giving such inspiring and delightful dance music as could not fail to fill all the participants with enthusiasm and even to bring some of the older people "up on their toes" with the rest.

The ladies of the village in their usual willing and open-hearted way gave their ready assistance in furnishing a fine supper, which was heartily enjoyed by all. About thirty-five couples participated including a goodly number from Bolster's Mills headed by Dana Stewart, manager of the team, with Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Caswell, Messrs. Peckham, Clarke, Mr. "Shortstop" (whose other name has slipped by us, a thing the ball was never able to do with him) and others. A few words of welcome were spoken by a member of the committee, followed by a fitting and most appreciative response from Mr. Caswell of the Bolster's Mills club. Dancing was kept up till the early morning hours when all went away declaring it a jolly good time and one long to be remembered.

The Sawin family annual picnic took place on Saturday, September 1st, at Pappoose Pond and was well attended, about ninety being present, including a delegation of twenty from South Waterford, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed the day and expressed themselves as mightily glad they came.

On Saturday afternoon was played on the Flat grounds the final base ball game of the season, Norway vs. Waterford. Score 4 to 3 in favor of Waterford. A bully good game to wind up the year.

The week has been filled to the brim with good things and both hosts and guests have many jolly, happy times to remember.

Mrs. Albert Murphy of Green Bay, Mich., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Stanwood. She is accompanied by her young son, Simon.

Roland Gerry and the Misses Briggs of Pittsburg are visiting Miss Josephine Gerry. Mrs. Cyrus Plummer of Colorado and Mrs. Louise M. Wood with her two daughters are at Frank Noble's.

Sebago Lake Resorts.

Indications now point to Sebago lake being one of the greatest summer resorts in the state. The growth of this resort, which is expected to be one of the most beautiful spots in the country, during the past two or three years, especially, has been remarkable and thousands are now spending their summers along the shores of the lake or the bodies of water with which it is connected. Some magnificent summer residences have also been erected there, costing many thousands of dollars.

Manager Charles L. Goodridge of the Sebago Lake, Bay of Naples and Songoro River Steamboat Co., has kept a careful account of the number of people he has taken into the Sebago Lake resorts this season and says that at the present time he has carried in 13,000 more people than he has brought out. This shows the tremendous number of people who are summering at Sebago lake and the adjoining resorts and it must be remembered that they have been going up there in trains, automobiles and carriages equally as fast so that it is safe to say there are two or three times as many people up there as the steamboat line has yet to bring out.

Sebago Lake's shores are being filled with splendid summer homes, the Bay of Naples has had by many times, the greatest year it has ever known, and Long Lake, beyond, is entertaining a host of summer people.

The greatest growth on Sebago lake has been in the vicinity of Long point and along the Raymond Cape shore, especially in the vicinity of Indian island. Sticky River point is another rapidly growing section.

Equally fast has been the growth of summer population at the Bay of Naples and along the shores of Long lake. At the present time it has over 10,000 people and if the Bay of Naples Inn were twice or three times as large as it is at the present time, it would hardly hold the people who wish to get into it.

History of Congregational Church at Harrison.

From Church Manual.

The Congregational Church, Harrison, Me., was organized by council Feb. 15, 1826, with eleven members and by a few months was the first church formed in town. In 1829, it joined with the newly formed Baptist church in erecting a house of worship at the intersection of roads near the geographical center of the town. Joint interest in this building was maintained long after an independent church home had been built in 1836 in the village. For some seven years the young church was without stated preaching, but meantime so great was its activity that Oct. 23, 1833, when it installed Rev. James P. Richardson as its first pastor, forty-nine persons already had joined it. Rev. Mr. Richardson, according to the agreement, gave one-third of his time to this church and two-thirds of his time to the church at Otisfield. He was dismissed July 18, 1837, to serve the Otisfield church alone. During his ministry the present house of worship was built and fifteen persons joined the church. The day of Mr. Richardson's dismissal, Rev. Joseph Searle was installed joint pastor over the churches at Harrison and North Bridgton. Mr. Searle continued in this capacity for four years, when he resigned at North Bridgton, but continued as pastor at Harrison till his death the same year, Dec. 3, 1841.

Forty-five persons united with the church during his ministry. The church was next served from Jan. 10, 1849, to Sept. 22, 1849, by Rev. Cyril Pearl; from Feb. 23, 1847, to Aug. 15, 1849, by Rev. Ariel P. Chute, and from Feb. 6, 1850, to Dec. 21, 1852, by Rev. Charles Packard. These three pastors were installed over the Harrison church alone. During Mr. Packard's pastorate occurred a marked revival, as a result of which seventeen persons united with the church on consecration, June 6, 1852. Rev. John Dodd became pastor over the Harrison church in union with that at North Bridgton, Jan. 1, 1854, and continued as pastor here till the early part of 1858. Fourteen persons united with the church during his pastorate. During the two years, Jan. 1, 1859—Dec. 31, 1860, the joint arrangement with the North Bridgton church continued under Rev. Edward S. Palmer. The records show no additions to the church from July 6, 1856, to April 10, 1860. During most of this time the church had supplies, Mr. Ellis supplying for a year here and at Naples, following Rev. Mr. Palmer; then Mr. Sheldon for another year. From 1863 to 1867, the church had preaching only part of the time. For two successive winters, Mr. Olough, a Baptist student at Waterville, supplied. After him, Mr. Watson, a student at Union Seminary, supplied one summer, and the next summer another congregational student, Mr. Dickerson, supplied. In 1867, the church united with the Free Baptist church in supporting Rev. George W. Howe, the Free Baptist pastor, who preached at the Free Baptist church on Maple Ridge one Sunday and the next at the meeting-house of this church. This arrangement lasted for a year, when union was once more formed with the church at North Bridgton, which still continues. Rev. Ernest F. Borchers was installed joint pastor, Jan. 14, 1869, and was dismissed Oct. 3, 1871. Ten persons connected themselves with the church during Mr. Borchers' pastorate. Rev. Nebemiah Lincoln, pastor, after supplying several months, was installed as his successor, May 15, 1872. Mr. Lincoln's ministry was the longest in the history of the church. He was dismissed Dec. 5, 1887. The additions during his ministry numbered forty-one. May 8, 1888, Rev. Henry A. Freeman became pastor and continued for four years, meantime receiving nine into the church. On Oct. 1, 1892, Rev. Arthur G. Fitz succeeded to the pastorate and served till his death, Mar. 3, 1902. After more than a year's interval, Rev. Fred E. Winn became pastor, April 1, 1906.

The church has had the following deacons: James H. Chadbourne, 1826-1841; Luther Rogers, 1837-1842; Edward Stanley, 1841-1865; Philip Eastman, 1843-1847; Amos P. Foster, 1843-1857; George Peirce, 1858-1884; Horace Record, 1872-1880; Luther C. Blake, 1885-1894; Perley W. Kilbourne, 1885-; William Sumner Perley, 1894.

The clerks of the church have been as follows: James H. Chadbourne, 1826-1837; Luther Rogers, 1837-1842; Philip Eastman, 1842-1847; Simeon C. Chadbourne, 1847-1879; Rev. Charles Packard, 1850-1857; Francis E. Caswell, 1857-1854; Rev. John Dodd, 1854-1857; Lyman Caswell, 1858-1879; George Peirce, 1859-1870; Howard L. Sampson, 1870-1880; Perley W. Kilbourne, 1880-1896; Dr. James P. Bliss, 1897-1905; Mrs. Myra M. Patrick, 1906.

A Sunday School was organized in connection with the church May 7, 1848. The church was incorporated according to Chapter 55 of the Maine Laws of 1891, on Nov. 1, 1893.

In 1896, after having been considerably altered at unrecorded times since the first, the church building was thoroughly renovated and greatly improved. The church, March 23, 1844, adopted a confession of faith containing fourteen articles and a church covenant. Nov. 1, 1862, it was voted to adopt the Congregational Manual edited by Rev. J. E. Roy. It was voted to print the present Manual, May 13, 1906.

STATE OF MAINE.

Oxford, ss:
To the Honorable Justices of our Supreme Judicial Court, next to be held at Paris on the second Tuesday of October, A. D. 1906, for and within the aforesaid County and State.

Respectfully represents and libels Annie Palmer, whose maiden name was Annie Givan, a resident of Rumford in the County of Oxford, of George S. Palmer formerly of Rumford, but now of Paris unknown, that she was married to her said husband, May 1st, A. D. 1894 at St. Albans, New York, by Rev. G. A. Hartley a minister of the Gospel, duly authorized to solemnize marriages, that they cohabited as man and wife in various places, coming to Rumford, Maine, July 6th, 1901, where she has since continued to reside, that her said husband has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment towards her, that he has often struck and frequently subjected her to physical violence and has been guilty of extreme cruelty towards her. Your libellant further alleges that the residence of the libellee is not known to her and though she has made diligent search the same cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence. Your libellant further informs this Honorable Court that one child has been born of said marriage, Llewellyn Palmer now seven years old.

Wherefore your libellant prays this Honorable Court that she may be granted a decree of divorce from her said husband and also that the custody of said minor child be decreed to her mother.

Dated at Rumford this twenty-second day of August, A. D. 1906.

Oxford, ss:
Subscribed and sworn to the day and year above written. Before me.

ARETAS E. STEARNS, Notary Public.

STATE OF MAINE.

County of Oxford, ss:
Supreme Judicial Court, ss:
Upon the foregoing Libel, Ordered, that the libellant give notice to the said George S. Palmer, to appear before the Justice of our Supreme Judicial Court to be held at Paris, within and for the County of Oxford, on the second Tuesday of October, A. D. 1906, by publishing an attested copy of said libel, and this order thereon, three weeks successively in the NORWAY OXFORD COUNTY ADVERTISER, a newspaper printed in Norway, in the County of Oxford, the last publication to be 30 days at least prior to said second Tuesday of October, 1906, that he may there and then in our said Court appear and show cause, if any he have, why the prayer of said Libellant should not be granted.

HENRY C. PRADDOY, Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, thereon.

ATTEST: CHARLES F. WHITMAN, Clerk. A. E. STEARNS, Esq., Attorney for Libt.

PROBATE NOTICES.

To all persons interested in either of the Estates hereinafter named:
At a Probate Court, held at Rumford, in and for the County of Oxford, on the third Tuesday of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six. The following matter having been presented for the action thereupon hereinafter indicated, it is hereby ORDERED:

That notice thereof be given to all persons interested by causing a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the NORWAY OXFORD COUNTY ADVERTISER, a newspaper printed in Norway, in the County of Oxford, the last publication to be 30 days at least prior to said second Tuesday of October, 1906, that he may there and then in our said Court appear and show cause, if any he have, why the prayer of said Libellant should not be granted.

Housekeepers

have been vexed when using cream of tartar and soda to find their work uneven. If sometimes good, at others the biscuit and cake will be heavy or sour or full of lumps of soda that set the teeth on edge. Flour, eggs and butter wasted: This is because the cream of tartar is adulterated or cannot be used in the proper proportions.

A Day at Pappoose.

Clarence Austin took a party of 21 to Pappoose pond, Aug. 28th. It was a lovely ride in a hayrack, a fine day for swimming and boating, and a good time for all. Ages ranged from 2 to 70. A fire built on the beach, potatoes roasted in the ground, steak broiled over the coals were some of the pleasant features of the day. The children splashed and waded and gathered clams galore.

Charles Foster is working on the State road.

Arthur Holman is at work for Mrs. H. E. Wyman.

Otis Magoun is sick. A physician attends him.

E. E. Twitchell is buying apples in this vicinity.

Arthur Herrick has taken a trip to Aroostook county.

French & Temple are buying fall fruit $1.75 per barrel.

Mrs. Christina Twitchell from Oxford visited her parental home, Sept. 4th.

Frank Hunt is home from E. E. Witt's. We hear he is going to Brooklyn, N. Y., to work.

An exodus from Noble's Corner, Sept. 2d, to Harpswell and back on the evening train.

May Gould, who teaches French and algebra in Berlin, N. H., high school, visited her aunt, Mrs. I. J. Judkins, over Sunday.

Frank Briggs and wife from the village camped near Noble's Corner, Friday night, en route for Ketchum. They were afoot with tent and rations.

Mrs. Reuben Cobb, who has been visiting in Boston, Portland and Bangor, since early spring, returned to her home Saturday, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Sell.

EAST STONEHAM.

Improvements.

H. M. Parker's dwelling house has been newly shingled. It proved to be a warm job, first, because the weather was so very hot, and again because of borers. When the workmen began ripping off the old shingles, they were assailed by a swarm of borers which manifested their displeasure, stung some of the men quite severely before being subdued. There was a nest of them in each gable of the house, but hot water skillfully administered, soothed their ambitions and the shingling was accomplished.

Albert Littlefield is having his doorway enlarged and graded. The past week stone has been hauled to fill in and level up, so to form a terrace. When finished, it will be a great improvement, but it takes a pile of stone and is a good market for old boulders that have long been a nuisance to the farmers.

G. A. R. Hall has been reshingled of late.

Hazel Butters has gone back to Millinocket.

Mrs. Calle Bicknell is still living but with small hope of recovery.

We understand that Mr. Leadbetter arrived in town a few days ago.

Quite a number of people in town still cough and some of them whoop.

Rev. Mr. Wilson and wife left town last week, after a month's vacation.

Mrs. A. D. Stoneham and daughter, Mrs. Lindsay, returned home last Friday.

Repairs are being made on the street here, and another Company are about to set up telephone poles on the south side of the street.

Silas Stearns is erecting a building a short distance from his blacksmith shop. We are informed that it is to be occupied by his son Archie, who sells ice cream, fruit, candies, etc. Archie has been occupying a tent during the warm weather and has done quite a business disposing of his merchandise. We hope to see him prosper in his business and like to see boys and young men of some enterprise.

Flora McAllister went to Norway, last Friday.

Marion McAllister has been visiting in Norway, for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gammon visited friends in this place recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Files are staying at John Files' for the present.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McAllister have been quite sick.

Fred Warren and William McAllister visited relatives in Denmark, last week.

School will begin at the village next Monday, with Ida Holt of North Waterford teacher for the primary and Maude Dresser of Albany for the grammar.

Leroy Sexton and Middleton Grimes of Baltimore, Md., pupils of Prof. Tapman's school who are boarding this summer at C. D. Morse's, Waterford, took dinner last Tuesday at B. W. Rice's. Mr. Rice accompanied these young lads around the White Mountains in August.

WATERFORD.

Schools will begin next Monday.

W. J. Olmstead is working on the State road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grover are at their home in South Waterford.

Some of the farmers' sweet corn is ready to go to the factory.

Mrs. A. R. Pennock's little girl, Belle, is reported better at this writing.

Quite a number of the summer boarders have left town for their homes, in the cities.

C. B. Learned and wife were in Norway and Paris on business, Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. C. B. Learned, daughter, son and granddaughter visited at Mrs. J. A. Stevens, last Thursday. Mrs. Stevens and daughter are reported better.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Died, Aug. 31st, Warren M. Adams aged 87 years, 2 months. Funeral services were held Sunday, Sept. 1st, at his son's, Charles H. Adams, where he has made his home since the death of his wife, a year ago last April. Besides his son he leaves a younger brother, Mark Adams who lives in Boston, and a daughter, Mrs. Clara Fuller.

LOCKE'S MILLS.

Entered the Wrong Door.

Mrs. E. L. Tebbetts on entering her home in the dark, Friday evening, mistook the cellar door for the kitchen, falling the full length. A physician was immediately called, but no bones were found to be broken. Her right wrist was sprained very badly and her left thumb so that she cannot use either hand. Mrs. Tebbetts has many friends here who are anxious for her recovery.

Rena George was in Bethel village, Friday.

Will Goodwin spent Thursday in Montreal.

Frank Briggs and wife of Norway were in town, Friday, en route for Ketchum.

Mrs. Charles Stowell and daughter, Ruth, visited friends at Bethel last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Frost attended the reunion of Lisbon high school, Monday evening.
